HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

JULIA ALVAREZ '71

Doctor of Letters

Julia Alvarez, Class of 1971 and writer-in-residence at Middlebury, is a novelist, poet, and essayist held in the highest regard for her prodigious talent and insightful portrayals of the human condition. Among her many awards is the National Medal of Arts, bestowed by President Barack Obama in 2013, the highest honor given to artists and arts patrons by the United States government.

Alvarez spent most of her childhood in her parents' native Dominican Republic before her family was forced to flee the dictatorship of Rafeal Trujillo in 1960. Alvarez's life experience became the foundation for much of her work, including the acclaimed novels In the Time of the Butterflies and How The García Girls Lost Their Accents.

Along with her works of fiction, Alvarez has published collections of poems (Homecoming, The Other Side/El Otro Lado, The Woman I Kept to Myself), nonfiction (Something to Declare, Once Upon A Quinceañera, and A Wedding in Haiti), and numerous books for young readers (including the Tía Lola Stories series, Before We Were Free, Finding Miracles, and Return to Sender).

In addition to earning her undergraduate degree from Middlebury, Alvarez also attended the Middlebury Bread Loaf Writers' Conference for many summers, as well as the Bread Loaf School of English, and obtained a master's in creative writing from Syracuse University. She has taught at the College since 1988, transitioning from a tenured position to her residency in 1998 in order to focus on her writing and the sustainable coffee farm and literacy center, Alta Gracia, she and her husband, Bill Eichner, established in the Dominican Republic, where many Middlebury students have volunteered. Alvarez also helped found Border of Lights, an organization that promotes peace and solidarity between two nations traditionally in conflict, Haiti and her native Dominican Republic.

MARTIN CHALFIE

Doctor of Science

Martin Chalfie, a university professor and former chair of the Department of Biological Sciences at Columbia University, is a Nobel Laureate, receiving the 2008 Nobel Prize in Chemistry, along with Roger Tsien and Osamu Shimomura, for his introduction of the use of green fluorescent protein (GFP) as a biological marker.

Chalfie's work with GFP has revolutionized biology by affording scientists new access to the inner workings of living cells. His seminal paper describing the uses of GFP—“Green fluorescent protein as a marker for gene expression”—was published in 1994 in Science and is among the most cited papers in the field of molecular biology and genetics. More than 160,000 papers have used GFP or another fluorescent protein since that paper was published.

Chalfie's lab is currently investigating nerve cell development and function, concentrating primarily on genes active in mechanosensory neurons. His research has been directed toward answering two different biological questions: 1) How do different types of nerve cells acquire and maintain their unique characteristics? and 2) How do sensory cells respond to mechanical signals?

A member of the National Academy of Sciences and the Institute of Medicine, Chalfie earned both his undergraduate and advanced degrees from Harvard—a bachelor's degree in 1969 and a PhD in 1977. He performed post-doctoral research at the MRC Laboratory of Molecular Biology in Cambridge, England, and joined the Columbia faculty in 1982.

HILARY HAHN

Doctor of Arts

Three-time Grammy Award-winning violinist Hilary Hahn has captivated audiences worldwide since she made her professional debut at age 12. Hahn has performed in more than 40 countries in a broad-ranging repertoire.

Hahn has released many albums on the Deutsche Grammophon and Sony labels, all of which opened in the top ten of the Billboard classical chart. Her sixteenth feature album, Mozart 5, Vieuxtemps 4: Violin Concertos, was released at the end of March. Hahn received Grammy Awards for Best Instrumental Soloist Performance with an Orchestra in 2003 and 2009; and for Best Chamber Music Performance in 2015. Her most recent win was for In 27 Pieces: the Hilary Hahn Encores, an expansive project of 27 short works for violin and piano that Hahn commissioned and premiered.

In addition to her achievements in classical music, Hahn has pushed musical boundaries and engaged in several cross-genre collaborations, performing with singer-songwriters Josh Ritter, Tom Brosseau, and Chris Thile, and contributing to two albums by the alt-rock band ...And You Will Know Us by The Trail of Dead. Six years ago, Hahn formed a free-improvisation duo with German avant-garde pianist Hauschka; they released their first record, Silfra, in 2012. Additionally, she has performed on The Tonight Show and the PBS NewsHour.

Hahn is a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia and has spent four summers at the Middlebury Language Schools, where she studied German, French, and Japanese.

CHRISTINA JOHNSTON

Doctor of Education

Christina Johnston is the principal of Weybridge Elementary School in Weybridge, Vermont, a position she's held for more than 20 years. During her tenure, Johnston has displayed bold and forward-thinking leadership that has earned national attention: Weybridge Elementary is now regarded as one of the best elementary schools in Vermont and beyond.

Long a proponent of curricular innovation, Johnston has overseen paradigm-shifting programs in mathematics, science, and second-language acquisition that have elevated learning opportunities for her students. In recent years, Weybridge classrooms have incorporated digital learning initiatives into their K-6 Spanish-language curriculum; engaged with a local aerospace engineering company to construct model bridges; and conducted experiments in a Middlebury College biology laboratory.

Raised in Washington State and Alaska, Johnston headed east for college, earning a bachelor's degree from Oberlin and a master's in education from Tufts. She moved to Vermont in 1969 to teach middle school language arts and has found the Green Mountain State to be the ideal laboratory in which to live, work, and educate.

Christina is currently a member of the Vermont Agency of Education science leadership team and the Addison Central Supervisory Union administrative team. Drawing on a strong interest in storytelling, Christina initiated early in her teaching career an interdisciplinary program based on the Foxfire movement, subsequently serving as a consultant on various oral history projects sponsored by academic and cultural institutions throughout the state. Establishing a learning community that encourages compassion, a desire for learning, and a sense of place and responsibility within the world remains at the heart of her life's work.

ERIC NELSON

Doctor of Laws

Eric Nelson, the Robert M. Beren Professor of Government at Harvard University, is a political theorist who has focused his research on the history of political thought in early modern Europe and America and on the implications of that history for debates in contemporary political theory.

Nelson is the author of three books: The Royalist Revolution: Monarchy and the American Founding (2014), for which he received the Society of the Cincinnati History Prize; The Hebrew Republic: Jewish Sources and the Transformation of European Political Thought (2010), for which he received the Erwin Stein Prize and the Laura Shannon Prize in Contemporary European Studies; and The Greek Tradition in Republican Thought (2004). He has also edited Hobbes' translations of the Iliad and Odyssey for the Clarendon Edition of the Works of Thomas Hobbes (2008).

In 2013, Nelson delivered Middlebury's John Hamilton Fulton Lecture in the Liberal Arts under the title "The Lord Alone Shall Be King of America: Hebraism and the Republican Turn of 1776." Nelson received his AB summa cum laude from Harvard in 1999 and his PhD from the University of Cambridge in 2002. He has been awarded fellowships by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation and the American Council of Learned Societies. He has also been a Junior Fellow in the Harvard Society of Fellows, a Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, and a British Marshall Scholar.

GAMALIEL PAINTER'S CANE

Words by Charles B. Wright, Professor Emeritus of English, Hon DLitt, Class of 1915

Music by E. Pruda Harwood Wiley, Class of 1912

When Gamaliel Painter died,
He was Middlebury's pride,
A sturdy pioneer without a stain;
And he left his all by will
To the college on the hill
And included in a codicil a cane.

Chorus

Oh, it's rap rap rap,
And it's tap tap tap,
If you listen you can hear it sounding plain;
For a helper true and tried,
As the generations glide,
There is nothing like Gamaliel Painter's cane.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE DIPLOMA

(English Translation)

Middlebury College
in the State of Vermont
To all students of letters
Eternal greeting in the Lord

Be it now known to you that the President of the College, with the approval of our honored and esteemed Fellows, has dignified and graced _____ with the title and rank of Bachelor of Liberal Arts, and has conferred on her/him all the privileges and honors pertaining thereto. Let the official seal of the College and the signature of the President bear witness to this act.

Issued at the College on the 24th of May, in the year of the Lord 2015, and in the 239th year of the American Republic.

THE SEAL

The official seal of Middlebury College shows an open book, with simple marks for letters. The College's motto, Scientia et Virtus (Knowledge and Virtue), is written on either side of the book. Around the edge of the seal are four abbreviated Latin words: Coll. Med. Virid. Mon. Their full form is Collegium Medioburiense Viridis Montis; in English, Middlebury College of Vermont.

GAMALIEL PAINTER'S CANE

Gamaliel Painter's cane is one of the most treasured artifacts of the College. Once the walking stick of the founder of both the Town and the College, today it is carried by the president in the academic procession. It serves as the College's mace and as a symbol of institutional strength and character. The president will present to members of the Class of 2015 a replica of the original cane, reminding the graduates that they go forward from Middlebury with the strength and character of the College always at their side.

Students carrying a cane in the academic procession are those who completed their degree requirements in December 2014 or January 2015 and received their canes at the February celebration earlier this year.

THE MEDALLION

The medallion was first presented to Samuel S. Stratton by the Board of Trustees upon his inauguration as the 11th president of Middlebury College in 1943. A new medallion bearing the names of all 16 College presidents was presented by John and Bonnie McCardell to President Ronald D. Liebowitz at his inauguration as the 16th president in 2004. The medallion is passed on from president to president as a symbol of office and is worn on all ceremonial occasions.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

The academic costume, which originated at Oxford and Cambridge Universities in England in the 1300s, has been in use in the United States since colonial days, although not until the 1890s was there a decided movement toward greater use of the academic costume by senior classes, trustees, and faculties. In 1895, representatives of American schools codified standards for academic dress with the establishment of the Intercollegiate Dress Code.

THE GOWN

The flowing gown comes from the 12th century. While it originally may have been worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings, today it has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress of rank or social standing. Traditionally it is black for all degrees.

The bachelor's gown is relatively simple, with long, pleated front panels, and intricate shirring across the shoulders and back. The gown is worn closed and is distinguished by its long, pointed sleeves.

The master's gown has the same yoke effect but is designed to be worn open. It has a very long sleeve, oblong in shape with an arc cut out of the bottom of the front. The oblong is closed at the base and the forearm protrudes through a notched slit at the elbow.

Gowns for the doctor's degree are also designed to be worn open, but carry five-inch-wide velvet panels, which extend all the way to the bottom of the garment. Three horizontal velvet bars are stitched on the upper arm of the full, round, bell-shaped sleeves. This velvet trimming may be either black or the color distinctive of the faculty to which the degree refers.

In recent years a number of universities have adopted alternative robes using their traditional school colors, such as crimson for Harvard, blue for Yale, slate gray for Columbia, maroon for Chicago, and cardinal red for Stanford.

THE CAP

When Roman law freed the slave, he won the privilege of wearing a cap. The academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book. The cap worn almost universally in academic processions is the Oxford cap, better known as the mortarboard.

The tassel may either be black or reflect the scholarly subject, although only doctor's degree recipients may have gold thread. A different style cap, the Cambridge cap, resembles a large beret.

THE HOOD

The hood is the most distinguishing feature of all academic costumes. Originally, it seems to have had three uses: as a hood covering; as a shoulder cape; or, when hung from the shoulder, as a bag in which alms could be collected.

The size and shape of the American hood mark the college degree of the wearer. The hood's outside is bordered with velvet of the proper width to indicate the degree and the proper color to indicate the department or field of study. Thus, a degree conferred as Bachelor of Arts requires the white of arts, letters, and humanities, whereas the Bachelor of Science degree requires the yellow of science.

The shapes of the bachelor's hood and the master's hood are similar, the former being three feet in overall length and the latter three and one-half feet. The doctor's hood has a base that is rounder and has an overall length of four feet. The respective widths of the velvet borders are two inches for the bachelor's, three inches for the master's, and five inches for the doctor's hood. The covered lining on the inside of the hood is the official color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. Where there is more than one color, the second color is usually represented by a chevron, a wide stripe across the background color, or field. Thus, the inside of the Middlebury hood has a blue background with a white chevron.

Members of the governing board of the degree-conferring institution normally wear the doctor's gown, but their hoods represent only such degrees as are actually held.
